

A painting of four children playing with hula hoops in a grassy field. A boy in a red shirt and blue pants is the central figure, hula hooping with a pink hoop. To his left, a girl in a white top and pink skirt is also hula hooping. In the foreground, another girl in a light blue top and pink skirt is reaching out towards a blue hula hoop on the ground. To the right, a smaller child in a purple top and pink skirt holds a pink toy. The background shows rolling green hills under a clear blue sky.
